NEW ARMOR PLATE BID EFFECTS A BIG SAVING

Secretary Daniels Not Satisfied and Will Agitate for Government Plant.

With a saving of $11,574 under the figures of identical bids, for armor for battleship No. 39, submitted some weeks ago and rejected, the Midvale Steel Company was given the contract for the armor material as the lowest bidder at the opening of new bids by the Navy Department yesterday.

The reduction obtained by rejecting the original bid is far from satisfying to Secretary Daniels. His announced intention is to continue to agitate for the erection of a government armor plant.

His acceptance of the new bids, he stated, was to prevent delay in the completion of the battleship, and also because of the improbability that any further reduction can be obtained from the three companies which have the only plants equipped to manufacture the armor plate.

Saves Half Million.

Yesterday's award brought the total saving through competitive bidding on material for the new battleship up to $11,574, the reduction under prices for armor plate having amounted to $202,231 in the contracts for structural steel, lighter plates and turbine casings.

The three companies in the so-called "combine" had been given until yesterday to submit new bids to replace the identical ones originally submitted and rejected by Secretary Daniels. In those bids all three offered the following prices per ton: Class A armor, $451; class B, $400; turret, $318. The figures yesterday were: Class A armor, $440; Bethlehem, $398; Carnegie, $447; Turret—Midvale, $301; Bethlehem, $298; Carnegie, $311. Class B—Midvale, $382; Bethlehem, $490; Carnegie, $380.

Wants Armor at Cost.

"I am, of course, pleased," said Secretary Daniels, "at the substantial saving in cost, of battleship No. 39, which has resulted from the refusal to accept the original identical bids of the steel companies, but I consider that the fight has not been won. It is my intention to lose no opportunity to urge upon Congress the advantages of its construction. It is my belief that the steel needed for the department has already saved $78,261 on structural steel, $19,000 on medium steel plates, $2,000 on angle iron, and $16,000 on the casings for the big turbines, making a total of $113,261. The added saving on armor plate brings the total saved on No. 39 up to $124,796, which does not include many small savings made in other items of equipment."

PARRAN CRITIC OF TARIFF IN KENSINGTON SPEECH

Republican Candidate for Senate
Also Censures State Primary Law.

Special Correspondence of The Star.

ROCKVILLE, Md., October 15, 1913. A mass meeting was held in the town hall at Kensington last evening in the interest of the republican state and county tickets. It was presided over by Brall and H. Warner, Jr. Speeches were made by Thomas Parran, candidate for the United States Senate; Oliver S. Metzger, candidate for controller; Representative Charles N. Townner of Iowa and Mr. Warner.

The meeting followed an all-day automobile tour of the county by the state and county candidates and other members of the party.

Those who accompanied the state candidates about the county were Thomas Dawson, C. Scott Duvall, E. H. Warner, Jr.; William T. S. Curtis, Frank L. Hewitt, Frederick W. Page, Clarence E. Dawson, Dr. Ryan Devoe, Thomas E. Robertson, Charles T. Johnson, and W. Harry Beard. The candidates expressed themselves as much pleased at the splendid shape in which they found their party and the evidences of interest on all sides.

Criticizes Tariff Law.

In his address last evening Mr. Parran said he felt much encouraged at the advance of the republicans and the united effort they are making to carry the state. He severely criticised the democratic tariff law, declaring the tariff so low that it will discourage business. He characterized the present primary election law as a disgrace to the state, and asserted that it encourages corruption and was reactionary legislation of the worst kind, notwithstanding that Senator Blair Lee, who poses as a progressive, is its author.

Today the state candidates plan a visit to the Hagerstown fair. From Hagerstown they go to Frederick, and from there to Westminster and then to southern Maryland.

TEST OF CANAL LOCKS SHOWS PERFECT WORKING

Tug and Barges Raised From Pacific Lake.

PANAMA, October 15.—The first lockage at the Pacific end of the canal occurred yesterday when the tug Miraflores, three barges and two other craft were raised together through the west flight of the Miraflores locks from the Pacific entrance to the surface of the Miraflores lake, 26.82 feet above the sea level. The lockage was made without a hitch.

The passage of the vessels consumed an hour and a half. Because of insufficient water in the section of the canal between the Pedro Miguel locks and Cucaracha slide the vessels could not be passed through the single flight of locks at Pedro Miguel as originally planned.

The engineers have succeeded in obtaining mastery over the Cucaracha slide to the extent of getting a fair size stream of water through the lower section of the cut. The water is rising rapidly and it is expected that a vessel will be locked through Pedro Miguel today, which will complete the first actual working test of all the canal locks. A dredge will be passed through the Pacific locks and set to work on the slide within a few days.

Removal of the dirt caused by extensive slides explains the considerable amount of excavation in the Panama canal during September. The total amount was 1,922,773 cubic yards, as compared with 2,638,783 yards in August.

The work of placing concrete in the locks and approaches is nearly finished and the 5,770 yards laid in September was disposed mainly in finishing up the great masses of concrete already in place.
